

DOMINICANS
FOR JUSTICE AND PEACE

actalliance

geneva climate change consultation group

BRAHMA KUMARIS
WORLD SPIRITUAL UNIVERSITY

THE LUTHERAN
WORLD
FEDERATION

minority rights
group international

Franciscans International
A voice at the United Nations

QUNO
Quaker United Nations Office

World Council of Churches

Geneva Interfaith Forum on Climate Change, Environment and Human Rights

Integrating a human rights perspective in climate action

During the 41st session of the Human Rights Council, the Office of the High Commissioner on Human Rights will present its analytical study on gender-responsive climate action for the full and effective enjoyment of the rights of women. This comes at a critical time in the implementation of the Paris Agreement, as States are required to submit new or updated Nationally Determined Contribution (NDCs) in 2020.

This side-event will provide a platform to discuss the impacts of climate change on the enjoyment of human rights, particularly of women, youth, minority groups, and indigenous communities. It will also explore the imperative to ensure that human rights are included in States' climate policies and actions at all levels and reaffirm the crucial role of the Council in addressing and integrating a human rights perspective in climate change processes.

Panelists

Pranita Biswasi
Lutheran World Federation

Glenn Payot
Minority Right Group International

Benjamin Schachter
Focal Point Climate Change and the Environment (OHCHR)

Moderator

Laurence Blattmer
Dominicans for Justice and Peace

Light refreshments will be served
This side-event will be in English

A live-stream will be available through www.facebook.com/franciscansinternational

How to get to Room XV?

DON'T PANIC! Room XV is between Rooms VII and VIII, but one floor below: take the stairs or lift located in the corner between Rooms VII and VII. Go down to the 2nd floor, and voilà!

- Location: Room XV - Palais des Nations
- Date: 28 June 2019
- Time: 12.00 - 13.00